Carolyn Bailey South Fremantle has a community feel the middle of Freo does not: Im thinking this comes with the mix of residential among services..it would be a huge sadness if retail development was approved beyond the scale of what is..nothing too big..nothing to... See More

Liz Foss Yes, South Fremantle does have a great community and virtually all the businesses along South Terrace are independently owned and run...which I love.

Liz Foss Me too. It's had such a great impact on this neighbourhood, it's hard to remember a time without it.

Lisa Barnes I'd love to see more playground facilities in our suburb. With such great coffee and food we sometimes get overlooked by families as they take their kids to George st and zephyrs. If we had a secure and "great" park we would get a lot more visits from families. I'd love to see a great nature play (perhaps on the grass ally between the beaches) and a good climbing park somewhere closer to the action.

Brianna McDonald I agree, there are very limited parks in northern south Freo, especially ones big enough for dogs and kids together. Dale street, Gold street and Coral street are all tiny so if you want a decent park you have to get to Pamela which is a bit far if you live in the northern half of the suburb.

Lisa Barnes Rachel Its always busy there which means that families are choosing to go there which is great. I would love to see a playground like this further north and perhaps in a more sheltered location or closer to some of the shops and cafes will bring more families into our local businesses
